VERSES

A Bad Breath.

What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disgreeable breath, when, by using the

it could be secured! How many lovers it has separated! How many friends forever parted who else is so Delicate, your nearest friend will not mention it; and you are yourself ignorant of the fact. To effect a radical cure, use the Balm as a tooth-wash night and morning.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

of ancient times used honey to beautify their complexion; but the combination with palm-oil and other valuable ingredients makes it still more valuable. For bathing suffering infants, a few drops poured into a basin of water will dispel all fever, fetter, &c. A few drops poured on your shaving-brush makes a beautiful soft lather, leaving the face pure and white.

Used for washing night and morning, it obliterates all Tan, Pimples, and Freckles, giving the skin soft and white and free from blemish.

WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES.

The Best, Most Reliable Sewing Machine Now in Use!

These Machines make the lock-stich alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silks that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do. It will Stitch, Hem, Fell, Quilt, Tuck, Plait, Gather, Cord, Braid, etc., all without previous basting; and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, or they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping; and make every stitch perfect; or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, without changing the feed needle or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever!

It has the following advantages over all other machines:

Far greater variety of work; beauty and excellence of stitch; speed and quietness of motion; simplicity of construction; ease and management; elegance of design and finish.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of an intelligent buyer.

Please call and examine.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from August 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of 7 3-10ths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect.—They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of this Loan.

It is a National Savings Bank, offering a higher rate of interes than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government money.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interested, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith of ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits. The party depositing must endorse upon the original certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Pittsburgh,
Third National Bank of Pittsburgh,

AND BY ALL NATIONAL BANKS

which are depositaries of Public money, and all

RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS

throughout the country will give further information and aug29'64 JOHN HARTLING.

Patriotic Letter from Everett.

Last Tuesday a meeting was held in Faneuil Hall, Boston, to rejoice over the late glorious victories of our arms at Atlanta and in Mobile bay. Edward Everett was invited to speak, but it not being in his power to attend, sent a letter, which was read amid rounds of applause. We make the following extract:

"Let us rejoice in the well founded hope that these new and signal proofs of the military and naval strength and resources of the country, and of the ability and determination of the Government and people to crush the military power of the rebellion may, under Providence, be the means of hastening a safe, an honorable, and a lasting peace. For such a peace the masses of the people at the North, and, as I firmly believe, at the South, are prepared, and it needs but united efforts on our part to bring it about. For this consummation to man's heart yearns more earnestly than mine. All who know me know that, in my humble sphere, I strove to the very last to avert the catastrophe. But it must needs be that offences should come. Some of those most active in bringing on the crisis have boasted that it was planned and resolved on thirty years ago. Mr. Webster, in 1850, raised his voice of solemn and prophetic warning in the Senate. "Peaceable secession! Peaceable secession, sir," he cried, "your eyes and mine were never destined to see that miracle. The dismemberment of this Union without a convulsion! The breaking up of the fountains of the great deep without ruffling the surface!" Sir, he who sees these States, now revolving in harmony around a common centre, and expects to see them quit their places and fly off without convulsion, may look the next hour to see the heavenly bodies rush from their spheres and jostle against each other in the realms of space, without causing the wreck of the universe. There can be no peaceable secession. Peaceable secession is an impossibility. No, sir, No, sir, I will not state what might produce the disruption of the Union, but I see, as plainly as I see the sun in Heaven, what that disruption itself must produce; I see that it must produce war, and such a war as I will not describe [illegible] raised in vain. Ten more troubled years of strife and controversy followed.—Whatever fault lies at the door of the North, this may with truth be said, that every demand made by the South was conceded, and that every issue raised by her was decided in her favor. At length having been defeated in one election, after having all but monopolized the Government for sixty years (a defeat brought about by the management of her own political leaders,) for the avowed purpose of "firing the Southern heart," she struck the first blow of overt treason and aggressive war. To the question on whom the dread responsibility of that fatal blow must forever rest, let the Vice-President of the Confederacy, in his speech in the Georgia Convention of January, 1861, return the answer: "This step," said he, "once taken, can never be recalled, and all the baneful consequences that must follow must rest on this Convention to the end of time." Then, after depicting in the darkest colors "the desolations by the demon war which this act of yours will inevitably invite and call forth," he asks, "who will be held responsible for it, and who but he who shall give his vote for this unwise and ill-timed measure, will be held to strict account for this suicidal act, by the present generation, and probably be cursed and execrated by posterity, in all coming time, for the wide and desolating ruin that will inevitably follow the act you now propose to perpetuate?"

M'CLELLAN IN THE ARMY.—The following is an extract from a private letter written by an officer in the Army of the Potomac;

I suppose you would like to know what the army thinks about M'Clellan Well, as far as I can learn, and there is a good amount of talk on the subject, M'Clellan has lost about all his army friends since he connected himself with the Copperheads and peace men. The nominations made at Chicago will receive very little support from the soldiers. They can not see how they can vote for both a war man and a peace man. The cry with them is war until the rebels lay down their arms, and are willing to give what terms we are willing to give them. Men who, a month since, were strong for M'Clellan, now call him a traitor. Abe will receive nine out of ten votes in the army. Massachusetts regiments are all for Lin. The Western troops are the same. Little Mac lost his friends in the army when he was put up by the Chicago Convention.

☞Surely there is not a Pennsylvanian or a Marylander so blind as not to see, that underneath the Chicago scheme of stopping the war and giving a long armistice for a Convention that would never meet. It is the purpose of the Rebels to transfer the war from the South to the North. If the Democrats succeed in stopping the war, it will not be shoved back into Virginia until after Pennsylvania and Maryland are ravaged and ruined.

Ingenuity of our Soldiers.

A Herald correspondent writing from city Point says: I cannot refrain from giving an account of the building of a very small steam engine, the materials of which were picked up in different parts of the State and suited in their proper places at the leisure of the builders. A description of the materials used, and were procured, will be of interest, and any one anxious to procure relics of the war would find in this small engine a whole cabinet of curiosities. The length of this piece of Yankee ingenuity is fourteen inches, and its hight ten inches, and, though so small, yet it works beautifully. The bedplate, a small brass plate, was taken from a mill at Port Royal. The cylinder bed, on which the builder's name is generally engraved, was taken from a small engine used for washing gold at the gold mills on the Rapidan River. The way stand is made from a piece of the balance beam of Fairbank's scales. The cylinder is from a piece of a musket barrel. The steam pipe is a silver penholder, as also the exhaust pipe. The steam whistle is composed of several pieces; the head is a mouthpiece of a bugle, the cap a cartridge of Spencer's repeating rifle; and the knob the tip of a bayonet scabbard. The hub of the flywheel is the plug of a shell fuse. The four spokes are made from a Springfield musket ramrod, the rim from a centre table taken at Spottsylvania Court House. The safety value is another piece of bugle, helped out by a piece of lightning rod taken from a mill at Rappahannock Station. The beam of the valve is a cavalryman's buckle filed down; the weight, a knob of a bureau drawer from Spottsylvania Court House. Two try cocks from Fairbank's scales, taken at Rappahannock Station. The boiler is made from a common oil can. The furnace from a camp kettle, as also the smoke stack. The frame upon which the whole rests is mahogany, made from a piano taken from the house of a major in the rebel army. The rests or legs to the frame were taken from a pair of andirons from the same house. The rests of the boiler came from a snare drum. The builders of this beautiful little engine are W. E. Hawkins, of Newport, New York, and A. R. Evans, of Utica, New York, both of company H. 44th regiment New York [illegible] to take into account the tools to make such a nice piece of mechanism, and the length of time taken to complete it—being under process of construction nearly three years—it certainly becomes quite a curiosity, and one that would prove a valuable acquisition in the way of historical records and relics.

The Pleasures of being a Witness.

It is a pleasant thing to be a witness on an important trial. If we knew that a murder was about to be committed across the way, we are inclined to the opinion that we should put our boots through a rapid course of locomotion round the corner, beyond the range of sight and hearing, to avoid the consequences of being a witness. Being a witness, you are called to the stand and place your hand on a copy of the Scriptures, in sheepskin binding, with a cross on one side and none on the other, to accommodate either variety of Christian faith. You are then arraigned before two legal gentlemen, one of whom smiles at you blandly, because you are on his side, the other eyeing you savagely for the opposite reason. The gentleman who smiles proceeds to pump you of all you know, and having squeezed all he wants out of you, relentlessly hands you over to the other, who proceeds to show you that you are entirely mistaken in all your suppositions; that you never saw anything you have sworn to; that you never saw the defendant in your life; in short, that you have committed direct perjury. He wants to know if you have ever been in State prison, and takes your denial with the air of a man who thinks you ought to have been there. Asks you all the questions over again in different ways, and tells you, with an awe-inspiring severity, to be careful what you say. He wants to know if he understood you to say so and so; and wants to know whether you meant something else.—Having bullied and scared you out of your wits, and convicted you in the eyes of the jury of prevarication, he lets you go. By-and-by, everybody you have fallen out with is put on the stand to swear you are the biggest scoundrel they ever knew, and not to be believed under oath. Then the opposing counsel in summing up, paints your moral photograph to the jury, as a character fit to be handed down to all time as the type of infamy, as a man who had conspired against innocence and virtue, and stood convicted of the attempt. The judge, in his charge, tells the jury if they believe your testimony, etc., etc., indicating that there is even a judicial doubt of your veracity, and you go home to your wife and family, neighbors and acquaintances, a suspected man, all because of your accidental presence on an unfortunate occasion. Who would be a witness?

☞Ohio has given to the country the following successful Generals:—Grant, Rosecrans, Sherman, M'Pherson, Sheridan, Kautz, Garrard, Garfield, Schenck, Weitzel, Gillmore, the murdered McCook, Crook, Lytle, and Harker.

McClellan at Malvern Hill.

We find the following statement about McClellan's retreat from Malvern Hill in the Rev. J. J. Mark's able history of "The Peninsula campaign in Virginia." It is a piece of history which will be difficult for General McClellan to explain. The statement is the more important just now from the fact that the Rev. Mr. Marks wrote his history immediately after McClellan abandoned the Peninsula.

It was not written for policical effect, nor by a politician, but by an army chaplain who was a faithful witness of the scenes which he describes. We copy it now for the benefit of the people who are invited to vote for the sweet-scented General who ran away from a victory which the glorious old Army of the Potomac had won. Mr. Marks says:

The battle was over, but the canonading still continued, and shells and balls of every kind torn through the woods in a ceaseless whirlwind of fury. In teh meantime thousands of the Confederates oed in the wildest disorder from the scene, and hid themselves in swamps, and hollows; soldiers without guns, horsemen without caps and swords, came to the hospital in the battle-field of Glendale, and reported that their regiments and brigades were sweep away and they alone were "escaped to tell the tale."

It is one of the strangest things in this week of disaster that Gen. McClellan ordered a retreat to Harrison's Landing, six miles down the James river, after we had gained so decided a victory. When this order was received by the impatient and eager army, consternation and amazement overwhelmed our patriotic and ardent hosts. Some refused to obey the command. Gen. Martingale shed tears of shame. The brave and chivalrous Kearney said in the presence of many officers: "I, Phillip Kearney, an old soldier, enter my solemn protest against this order for retreat—we ought, instead of retreating to follow up the enemy and take Richmond. And in full view of all the responsibility of such a declaration, I say to you all, such an order, can only be prompted by cowardice or treason."

And with all hopelessness, and despair succeeded the flush of triumph. my utterly broken, scattered and panic-stricken.

And when there was not a foe within miles of us, we left our wounded behind to perish, and any one witnessing the wild eagerness of our retreat, would have supposed that we were in the greatest peril from a vigilant and triumphant enemy.

RETALIATION.—Gen. Burbridge, commanding the Union forces in Kentucky, has adopted a severe but necessary policy for ridding the State of the murdering guerrillas who have so long infested it. In retaliation for the murder of a Union man by a gang of these outlaws, he recently selected four of that class from a number of prisoners which he held, and ordered that they should be executed on the spot where the Unionist had been killed. Twenty soldiers under the command of a lieutenant, were detailed to carry out the order. Taking the doomed men to the place indicated, the lieutenant divided his men into four squads of five each, and assigned to each squad the duty of executing one of the guerrillas. The condemned men knelt upon the ground the order to fire was given, each received five bullets in his body, and the murder of the Union man was fearfully avenged.

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue directs that when a manufacturer produces an article of special application on his business being but apart of a structure in the line of his business, no tax will be imposed on such article, but it will be levied upon the structure complete. Thus—a carriage maker will not be taxed for the manufactured hubs, spokes, wheels, &c, which are of special use in his business, but should he make nails, cloths, or other articles used in manufacturing carriages, yet having a general commercial value, not being specially applicable to his business such products will be subject to taxation.

☞That faith which Cromwell preached to his Ironsides, to trust in God, but keep their powder dry, was reproduced in essence by Rev. Mark Trafton in New-Bedford last Sunday, in a sermon on "faith in God, faith in the Government, and faith in the righteousness of the cause for which we are fighting." He warned his congregation of dark days, perhaps to our arms, of dark days to the Government, dark days to individual men's courage and trust. "But brethren," said he, "I beseech you don't in any dark day, go and vote for McClellan and Pendleton."—Tribune.

☞The New York Commercial Advertiser says that at the McClellan ratification meeting in the Park Mr. Overfield, of Pennsylvania, said that "Lincoln was a——scoundrel, and a worse secessionist than Jeff Davis ever dared to be." This declaration, profanity and all was received with vociferous applause."

A Warning from Andy Johnson.

The Indianapolis Journal publishes the following from Andrew Johnson, Union candidate for Vice President, written in answer to a letter inviting him to speak at Logansport, Indiana:

NASHVILLE, Aug. 21st, '64.

We are getting along here as well as could be expected. We are taking steps gradually to restore the State; re-organizing the counties and courts as important preliminary steps to calling a convention, and holding elections by the people for all the offices of the State. If our armies are successful at Richmond and Atlanta (as I trust God they will be), we can give a vote in November for President and Vice President. Submission to the Constitution and obedience to the laws made in pursuance thereof are the only peace measures that should be offered to any portion of the people of the United States. These form the best and most substantial compromise, and one that can be adopted by the people of the rebellious States when in their discretion they may think proper to do so. It is with them how long this war shall continue, or when peace shall be made. The terms of peace have been before them and with them, and could have been made at any time they thought proper to adopt them. If the Constitution and and laws of the United States are now to be disregarded, and separation and the acknowledgment of an independent Southern Confederacy agreed to, American freedom is gone. A separation of the South from the North will only be the entering wedge to other divisions which will follow, and become as numerous as the States themselves, resulting in interminable civil war. Heaven avert us from the impending catastrophe, and preserve the nation from consequences too disastrous and terrific for contemplation.

What a Contrast!

Very unfortunate is it for General M'Clellan that just on the appearance of his letter of acceptance should appear the letters from Generals Grant and Sherman, and the speech of Gen. Hooker. Grant, and Sherman, and Hooker call things by their right names—rebels. M'Clellan talks about our "adversaries." Grant says the rebels' "only hope is in a divided North," but their "end is not far distant." Sherman says "we must first whip this rebellion into subjection, then first and treat afterwards." M'Clellan comes with his letter taking a place by the side of such men as Vallandigham and Long, whose boast it is that they never voted a dollar for this war; accepting a place on the ticket with Pendleton, who, in Congress, called upon representatives to let the "seceding States depart in peace;" he comes to whine about the conduct of the war, not to tell us how to end it; talks softly about our "adversaries," and advises to watch when our "adversaries" are "ready," and then exhaust our statesmanship to secure peace. What says Hooker about the time for making peace? "There can be no hope of peace as long as a rebel can be found with arms in his hands." What a contrast between the mode of these three Generals who fight the rebel foe, and the General who, in the early part of the war, lent himself to fight political battles.—Grant comes with the tread of majesty, right straight ahead, to beat down all foes; McClellan hops and skips about to catch this smile, and shun that frown, wires in here and squirms out there; mousing politician with soldier clothes on. One is "Unconstitutional Surrender," and the other is "Little Mac."—Cleveland Herald.

WELL PUT.—On the occasion of the National Fast, the Rev. Dr. Robinson, of the Theological Seminary, preached in the Central Presbyterian Church of Rochester, N. Y., and very pertinently asked:—"What man can write his will and say, this goes down to my posterity, that I helped to arrest this war before its work is done? I should be ashamed to have it said of me, that for property or any other selfish consideration, I proved false to the issues of this Civil War of 1864. We are not exhausted. We can not be exhausted, even if it is carried down to the next generation. And we ought to carry it to the next generation, rather than abandon it before its work is done."

☞Mrs. Tom Thumb has a baby three months old—"a little, cunning, crying doll of a thing, and in no respect peculiar or remarkable except in the promise it gives of being a full sized child, and, if it lives, of becoming as big again as either of its immediate ancestors," says a New York correspondent of the Boston Post.

CAN'T GO IT.—The Chicago Tribune learns from undoubted authority that Hon. Lewis Cass pronounces the Chicago platform a most ignominious surrender to the rebels, and says that he cannot support it.

☞Vallandighan narrowly escaped a sound drubbing from a party of soldiers at the depot on his arrival at Columbus a few days ago.

WASHER, WRINGER and STARCHER Combined! Silver and Bronze Medals, Diplomas, Certificates, Premiums, and Testimonials, have been received from various sources, both Public and Private.

Self-Adjusting and Adjustable! The only Wringer with the Patent Cog-Wheel Regulator, for turning both rolls together and which positively prevents the rolls from breaking or twisting on the shaft. It is not only a perfect Wringer, but the Cog-wheels give it a power which renders it a most Excellent Washer pressing and separating as it does, the dirt with the water from the clothes, leaving them dryer, whiter, and smoother than when "wrung" by hand. The water can be pressed from large and small articles, easier, quicker, and more thoroughly than by the ordinary, old-fashioned back-breaking, wrist-straining, and clothes destroying process.—The Cog-wheels prevent all "wear and tear" of clothes by the friction of the rolls or breaking of stitches by twisting.

Without Cog-wheels, the whole strain of forcing the cloth through the Machine is put upon the lower roll, and the cloth is made to act in the place of Cog-wheels, to drive the upper roll, causing a much greater strain upon the lower roll than when Cog-wheels, with our Patent Regulator, are used, besides the extra strain upon the cloth. A Good Canvasser wanted in every town. Liberal inducements offered, and exclusive sale guaranteed.

MARRIAGE.

ITS loves and hates, sorrows and angers, hopes and fears, regrets and joys; MANHOOD, how lost, how restored; the nature, treatment and radical cure of spermatorrhœa or seminal weakness; involuntary emissions, sexual debility and impediments to marriage generally; nervousness, consumption, fits, mental and physical incapacity, resulting from SELF-ABUSE—are fully explained in the MARRIAGE GUIDE, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This most extraordinary book should be in the hands of every young person contemplating marriage, and every man or woman who desires to limit the number of their offspring to their circumstances. Every pain, disease and ache incidental to youth, maturity and old age, is fully explained; every particle of knowledge that should be known is here given. It is full of engravings. In fact, it discloses secrets that every one should know; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents in specie or postage stamps.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE
BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with these Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS
Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.
These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,
Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.
Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES,
To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box: the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

NOW.

Are Dr. Hurd's Preparations Good?

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says, "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Pooder contains no acids, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having

which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Droops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sume you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing 37 cts. for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address,
WM. B. HURD & CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co. refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to Gi W. Griffin, President Farmers' and Citizens Bank, Brooklyn; to Joy, Coe, & Co., New York; to P. T. Barnum, Esq., New York, etc., etc.
